

BA. POLITICAL SCIENCE

COURSE OUTCOME

| SEMESTER & COURSE CODE | COURSE OUTCOMES |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SEMESTER 1 PS1CRT01 Methodology & Perspectives of Political Science | The purpose of this course is to help the students understand the fundamental aspects of methodology and philosophy of social sciences in general and the disciplinary history of political science in particular. |
| SEMESTER 2 PS2CRT02 Indian Constitution: Institution & Processes | Major aim of the course is to help the students understand the historical evolution of democratic political system in India and also to trace constitutional developments, inquire on the basic structures and values of the political system etc. |
| SEMESTER 3 I. PS3CRT03 Issues & Political Process in Modern India | This paper attempts to study the power of the Centre and the autonomy of the states within the Indian federal system, which reflect and articulate well-defined regional identities. India's diversity, in terms of socio-economic, political and cultural systems provides an opportunity for the learners to study the Centre-State relations critically. |
| II. PS3CRT04 Political Thought Indian Tradition | The course acquaints students with the fundamental texts and diverse traditions of Indian political thought in the pre-modern and modern periods. |
| SEMESTER 4 I. PS4CRT05 Introduction to Political Theory | The purpose of this course is to help the students understand the fundamental concerns of political theory and political philosophy from a methodologically pluralist point of view. |
| II. PS4CRT06 Political Thought: Western Tradition | The purpose of this course is to help the students understand the fundamental texts and traditions of Western political thought. |
| SEMESTER 5 I. PS5CRT07 Theories & Principles of Public Administration | The course provides basic understanding of the discipline of public administration. The major importance is on administrative theory, including non-western developing country's perspectives. |

| | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| II. PS5CRT08 Environmental Studies & human rights | The core Module Syllabus for Environmental Studies includes class room teaching and Field Work. The syllabus of environmental studies includes five modules including human rights. The first two modules are purely environmental studies according to the UGC directions. The second two modules are strictly related with the core subject and fifth module is for human rights. |
| III. PS5CRT09 Methodology of Research in Political Science | The course intends to familiarise the students with basic concepts of the Research Methods in Political Science .It also provides an idea of preparing Research design, various techniques of Data collection, Data analysis and report writing. |
| IV. PS5CRT10 Introduction to International relations | This paper seeks to equip students with the basic intellectual tools for understanding International Relations. The course begins by historically contextualizing the evolution of the international state system before discussing the agencystructure problem through the levels-of-analysis approach. |
| SEMESTER 6 I. PS6CRT11 Comparative Politics | This is a foundational course in Comparative Politics. The purpose is to familiarize students with the basic concepts and approaches to the study of comparative politics. Since the idea is to introduce many aspects of politics while engaging with various themes of comparative analysis in developed and developing countries. |
| II. PS6CRT12 Society,State & Political Process in Kerala | The course seeks to give the students an insight into the Society and State structure of Kerala. It also provides a detailed analysis of the sociopolitical evolution political processes, structures & social movements in the state of Kerala and to equip the student's skills in analyzing key issues in Kerala politics and society. |
| III. PS36CRT13 Issues in International Politics | This course provides insights into significant issues that inherently occupy the global political space in the post-Cold War era. The course introduces students to the important debates within the globalization discourse. The course also offers vital understanding of contemporary global concerns |

| | |
|---------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| | such as environmental issues, the proliferation of nuclear weapons, global terrorism, human security |
| IV. PS6CRT14 Human Rights | The purpose of the course is to inculcate a comprehensive knowledge of the concept of Human Rights. For that, the course provides a better understanding of the origin, evolution of rights and various steps taken by the national and international agencies for the protection and promotion of the Human Rights. |