STUDENT FEEDBACK DURING LOCKDOWN

2019 – 20

1.1 INTRODUCTION

When the entire world was facing an unprecedented threat posed by the novel corona virus and our country decided to go for lockdown from the last week of March 2020, which was further extended in April, all sectors faced a stand still. Just like any other field, our routine academic activities also had to be paused.

Though online teaching slowly started setting its foothold, there are issues related to both the accessibility and adaptability. As both the student and teacher community are more or less new to this mode of teaching-learning, there have been doubts on how well it has reached the learners. Moreover, students being away from the institutions, the role of teachers as counsellors was also restricted for the time being. Students may probably have gone through a very tough time, especially those belonging to the lower socio-economic stratum. In this context, it becomes imperative to have an understanding on the status of the students, not only academic-wise, but also their mental state of mind. With this in view, Baselius College initiated a survey of the students in order to know about their well being during the extended lockdown.

The methodology followed was as follows:

- A questionnaire consisting of eight questions covering their mental well-being, financial status and participation in online classes was developed.
- Each student of all classes from First year degree to final year P G was contacted by the class teacher/tutor/mentor over phone.
- The responses collected by tutors were sent to the Head of the Department. The department heads consolidated the reports relating to classes under the concerned department and the report for the entire college was later consolidated by IQAC.

The data collection was not initiated using Google forms or online forms. This was to ensure a direct connectivity and feeling of belongingness. In some instances, especially when it involved financial status at the present situation, the class teachers could even talk with the parents to get a clearer picture. The class teachers and tutors put in lots of efforts in completing the survey within a short period of time.

The report is presented in the following manner:

- The details have been presented class-wise in the order D1, D2, D3, M1 and M2. After presenting the table for each question, the department-wise details are shown.
Department
- Graphical presentations are made wherever necessary.
- Other observations are made afterwards.

ACTION TAKEN

The college took necessary steps to see that financial assistance is provided to students wherever necessary. Arrangements were made to provide smart phones or equipment so that the students can attend online classes. Teachers gave counselling to reduce the tension and anxiety levels of students and strengthen those who were going to appear for the final examinations.
