Add-on Course for Final Year BA English Students
Syllabus

Year	: 2019-20
Title of the Course	: Creative Writing
Type of Course	: Add-on
Target Students	: III BA English literature students

Objective:

This course is designed for undergraduate students of literature to acquaint themselves with the nuances of Creative Writing in all formats. The course contains theoretical and practical components to open the vistas of student's creative expressions in language.

Course Description:

The course has five units of six hours each. Each module contains a three-hour theory session led by an accomplished practitioner of the craft followed by a three-hour practical session with hands on training in various forms of creative writing – poems, short stories, copywriting and creative non-fiction writing. The course examines the various modalities of creative writing and introduces the student to enhance their creative writing skills. At the end of the thirty hour course, students will be able to create a magazine which has both written and video components.
